Hend says

IT is a book for healing your soul,purifying impurities from your heart make u look at the defects hidden within you instead of looking to others sins.....
the knowledge only gives self-satisfaction

one of the quotes i like the best...

"If you do not think well of Him because His qualities are beautiful then think well of Him because of the way He treats you.

Has He made you used to anything but good?
Has He bestowed on you anything but favours "

"It is not the eyes that are blind,
but the hearts in the breasts are blind."

Travel from phenomenal beings

to the Maker of Being.

Do not let the intention of your aspiration veer to other-than-Him.

Hopes can go no further than the Ever-Generous.

Do not ask other-than-Him for what you need

since He is the One who will bring it to you.

How can other than the One who put it there relieve it?

How can someone who is unable to relieve his own need relieve someone else's

It may well be that you are in a bad state -

but to keep company with someone worse than you would allow you to see good in yourself.

No action from a heart without attachment is insignificant.

No action from a heart full of desires is great.

Good actions are the results of good states.

Good states come from grasping the reality
of the stations where you alight.

Do not give up invocation of Allah because you are not present with Allah in it.

It is worse to forget to invoke Him
than to be inattentive while invoking Him.

He might raise you up from invocation with heedlessness
to invocation with wakeful attention,

and from invocation with wakeful attention

to invocation with presence, and from invocation with presence

to invocation with withdrawal from all that is other than the Invoked.

That is not difficult for Allah.
