Shifting Shana Norris

Dylan Waverly has lived his entire life on the tiny island of Swans Landing with his best friend Sailor Mooring at his side. But now Sailor has left, and no one knows if she'll ever return. Dylan remains stuck in a half-life between land and sea on an island that is slowly dying.

Dylan thinks he knows where his life is headed, until a human girl makes him wish for something more. Now he wonders if maybe there is another way of living, another choice he never imagined possible.

But is one girl worth crossing the line that separates humans and finfolk, and causing tensions on the island to erupt?

Doreen says

this is a short story which focuses on dylan. i am not going to spoil it here by revealing which girl he was involved with, suffice to say it is unexpected for him to be involved with.

this time, it is revealed that the island may be in danger of vanishing from the earth soon. but, we still do not know what causes it.

Amanda says

Short but I think it was important.
