How you doing i'm Michael Lawrence, I just written two Self-help books. One for men, "The Greatest Secret Untold" and another for the women, "If I were a chick..." both which i believe to be great tools. Any one who is interested can ask and i will send them excerpts from both books. First 5 people i will send them the whole book, which ever one they would like. I'm new to the author world so i need readers to read, so others will know. Thanks a lot and don't be shy to write me. I hope to hear from some of you soon.

ok this is my first time on goodreads but I will be contributing a lot since I read a lot of different genres. The Greatest Secret Untold was the last book I read. I'm friends with the author on facebook so I made it a point to read it. He came with a different type of self help. I learned from it and I was entertained by the character he use to tell the story. Good read for men. He also has a book for ladies coming out soon IF I WAS A CHICK...
