Alexandra says

2nd to "Firewalk".

Tina says

A strong, likable heroine and a very interesting, fast-moving plot. There's magic in this world and it's very intriguing, but it -- unfortunately -- takes a backseat to everything. My only other complaint is that some of the supporting characters felt a little impersonal to me and relationships lacked a certain depth.

Kate says

I always loved this book and all the author's other stories. I wish she had written more books. Her characters are approachable and yet appropriately foreign. The land is just obscure enough to not be ours but yet relatable enough to make it viable. I love her humor and her characterization.

Zara West says

Love this book. Great world building and a terrific strong heroine. This book sets you down in the midst of three cultures and manages to make you feel like you know exactly where you are. Plenty of turns and twists to keep you reading.

Stacey says

Not as magical as I thought when I read it first as a young adult, but still enjoyable, and I do like the story's climax.
