Chicago Christa Wick

Plus-size fetish model Alexa Hunt is searching for a million-dollar payday as the spokesmodel for a new, upscale line of clothing for dominatrices and female submissives. All she has to do is survive the audition -- a photo shoot at Chicago's ultra private Century Club, a pleasure house for the rich.

House Master Jake Morgan has studied the lush beauty from the moment she stepped into his domain. Gauging her reactions to the club, he knows she has never played a scene, never felt the hard smack of an open palm on her bare bottom or the harsh whisper of a flogger up her pale thighs. Aching to teach her the joy of submission, Jake maneuvers Alexa into a public scene at the club during which she must submit to sweet torment at his hands or be revealed a fraud.

But, in an underground culture where the wealthy will do anything to hide their identity, who is the real fake?

This was super hot but way too short! Christa states this serial will include other locations and couples. Since this is a serial I am hoping before she moves to next couple we get to know both of these characters better! This is by far her best I think but way too short waaaaahhh! Hope they don't all have same short length either! I am willing to pay more for a Indy author as long as they don't go the continual serial route! So Christa please, please, please don't ruin your great writing and reader base by doing this!

HOT READ

This is part one of a new series. Alexa Hunt is a plus size model, she mostly models fetish clothes, she's on her way to an audition which could mean a big pay day if she's chosen. The audition is taking place at a BDSM club, house master Jake Morgan spots Alex straight away, he manoeuvres her into playing a public scene.

This is a hot read that I have come to expect from this author. This basically introduces us to the two main players Alexa and Jake. We are given a little background about them both, I expect we will find out more as the series unfolds. The sex is hot and well written. I will definitely be reading more of this series.

Wow this book was scorching! Ms Wick definitely got the heart a pumping with this one. Read only if you enjoy some hot sex between the two main characters. You can feel the sexual tension radiating off the two main characters.

Always interesting characters with BDSM scenes

Always interesting characters with BDSM scenes

I really do not like serials, but like this author's writing. I knew I'd get hooked. So glad she has a longer book coming out the end of August.

Photo shots

This book is hot and steamy. A photo Audition turns into a job of a lifetime. She meets a strange guy in a sex club. He's Hot. Domineering, Sexy. Built like a football player. He offers her a one year contract with benefits. Apart from the modeling of the new clothes line. She gets to be hostess to him. He's like a walking wet dream

So far I've read BDSM where all their practices were related to the bedroom or only to the couple, and yeah, sometimes also inside of a club with a little audience. here.... well.

We have Alexa a BBW who is a model for big sizes and she is being requested for a modeling gig inside of an exclusive BDSM club, where she'll have to play both roles: submissive and Dominatrix... beside of the acting part, she didn't expect that she would be strongly attracted and responsive to her partner for the submissive part of the gig... and of course that it would be done in front of a big audience

And now comes out a proposition to perform like that in every single BDSM club of the branding name, together with her mysterious and sexy partner that would hide just a big surprise , what would she do about that?

"Each of the hotels will have its own Century Club," he continued."In addition to the ads in which you'll be wearing items from Riona's clothing line, you'll serve as an official hostess particularly for all the grand openings during the year."

"You'll engage only with me," he said before offering a short growl. "No one else regardless of where you are or whether you think you're officially off the clock."

"No other model was asked because I don't want another woman."

"I needed him in me fucking me, showing me what the next year with him would be like if I signed the contract"

A very hot and short reading, which is why I can't seem to put down the books XD

This is an erotic serial. It's heavy on BDSM.

I was in the middle of the second installment, when I realized the supposedly hot sexscenes left me quite cold. While the story was ok, it heavily relies on the sex scenes and if those don't do anything for you, there isn't much left.

Classic BDSM with bondage and some pain. The sex scenes were amazingly hot. The passion between Alexa (heroine) and Jake (hero) burned the pages. I couldn't read them fast enough.

Alexa is a BBW and model for Razor Girl. Which is a place that sales sex toys and kinky clothing etc. Her agent got her an audition to model kinky clothes for an exclusive club called Century. According to the contract she must agree to go topless and submit. (tee hee! Oh yes...she'll submit to the House Master.)

Question Alexa was the only one to audition at the "Club". Humm, me thinks the House Master found her before she met him. So the story ends with a question. Will our heroine accept the contact to model the kinky clothes and have mind blowing sex? I enjoyed her reluctant to comment her life (body & soul) to the sexy Billionaire.

Can she overcome her baggage? Will Jake allow her to refuse the contact? Can't wait for the next story.

Dear Ms. Wick, write faster. (Smiling)

Looking forward to more of this series.

This was hot and short!

Alexa is a BBW model who accepts a job as a model for BDSM products and the job shoot takes place in a BDSM club. Technically she's auditioning. First she's the Domme, then she's the sub. And this master is hot... and it turns out vaguely familiar but she's not sure why. As well, she seems to have an abusive past...(which is just like every other reluctant sub/BDSM book out there -- WHY?)

There's definitely chemistry between these two but she's never been a sub and he clearly wants her as his sub. This is part one of many books it seems, although that is NOT clear from the title, so there's no HEA here.

In Training Her Curves: Chicago, it is the start to hot and steamy relationship between Jake and Alexa. They heat up the room together.

I am loving this series and looking forward to many more.

This is just what I need from a Christa Wick book. Short, Hot, Sweet and leaves me wanting more. I picked this up to read in between another series and it gave me everything I needed. I love her books and I can't wait to read the next one.. Starting in 3...2..1
