Linda West has such a knack for the humorous side of characters ... Her writing style is so upbeat and unique and most of all inspirational!!! I hope to see more of these characters I’ve come to love - can’t wait to see what happens next in the adorable town of Kissing Bridge!”

Debbie Dragna

“Funny, unique and charming! I laughed out loud! I want to move to Kissing Bridge and live in their world. I loved both the first two in the series but this might be the best yet!!!!”

Cheryl Patchett

“I have become a huge fan of Linda West! I LOVE her books! This one did not disappoint! I hope the Kissing Bridge series never ends! Just ordered the newest one Firework Kisses and Summertime Wishes. Can’t wait to read it!”

Lindsay says

Very light hearted,feel good book!

You cant help but be drawn into the lives of the characters. I love how the books continue on with the previous store but you still meet new characters. Very enjoyable!

Sarah Robertson says

Great set of books, I am now getting ready to read the last two that I can find in this set.

Nicole Jakubowski-winn says

What a cute series to get you into the holiday spirit! Loved it.

Kitten Peters says

Awesome read

Come to kissing bridge and find laughter tears and hope. The most excellent series so grab a tea, a cookie and settle in and get to know the people I who come and live in this wonderful town

Mocha Latte says

Sucked!

Renate says

Enjoyable multicultural boxed set with diverse characters and settings, twist and turn plots, and believable resolutions. As a retired teacher, I empathized with Luke struggling with calculus. Having worked in a bakery as a teen, I related with Starr Clearwater in Peppermint Christmas and Sydney Kensington in Love and a Whole Lot of Santas. Christmas at the Aloha Cafe was the first Christmas story I have read with a

Hawaiian setting. While there were a few typos, they did not distract from the reading. Each novella also included a scrumptious holiday cookie recipe.
