Honorable Mention, the third volume in the award-winning "Honor" series, covers the tumultuous end of the Civil War in Florida and the Caribbean, from the re-election of Lincoln in 1864 to the relocation of former Confederates to Latin America in 1866. Now in command of the steamer U.S.S. Hunt, Lt. Peter Wake quickly plunges into action, chasing a strange vessel during a tropical storm off Cuba, dealing with a seductively dangerous woman during a mission in enemy territory ashore, confronting death to liberate an escaping slave ship, and coming face to face with the enemy's most powerful ocean warship in Havana's harbor. Finally, in January 1866, when he tracks down a colony of former Confederates in Puerto Rico, Wake becomes involved in a deadly twist of irony.

Robert Macomber continues to amaze. This, the third in a series about the exploits of Captain Peter Wake, did not disappoint! I have always liked historical fiction and have always liked stories from the Civil War era; but these books and this author brings it all more alive and interesting than most! One of the best parts is that Wes is a bit ahead of me in the series and it is so much fun to discuss this series. Well researched, great characters, vivid settings and I'm always learning something new.
