Halle says

I just do not care for the illustrator in these last few releases.

Tar Buendía says

Tengo la sensación de que la historia de Hannah, además de todo, tiene varios agujeros. No termina de convencerme. Pero es que las demás son taaaan maravillosas que no puedo con mi vida, me matan de amor.

Pat Silva says

Oh, the bitter agony... How will I handle having to wait soooooo long for the next installment?
I absolutely loved this one! These characters are so unbelievably badass... So looking forward to seeing the "heart to heart" conversation between Dee and Hannah!

AWESOME STORY + AWESOME ARTWORK + AWESOME CHARACTERS = AWESOME COMIC!
Totally, completely and hopelessly in love with this comic!

Carrie (goldenlyre) says

senoa: "this is the face of my atheism weeping" ALSKFHLJ

also this issue is pretty af. And. THE DRAGON SCENE HAHAHAHA

Ria says

Whilst still not living up to the dizzying promise of the early issues, there's fun to be had with this series.
Ominous cover for the next issue!

Todd Roboltou says

Unfortunately, this series is nowhere near as good as when it started. I keep reading in the hope it starts a return to form.

Carol says

Do dragons like their ducks tickled???

'Nough said!

solène ? says

"I, like most dragons, do NOT eat humanoids." "What... uh... why not?" "Same reason you don't eat dogs. Those adorable eyes."

Chris says

To update my review from #11, Tess Fowler has definitely made this book her own, and while I had my apprehensions before, she has abated them. While her style is different than previous artists, which took me a bit to adjust to, hers is strong and creative. Minor creative tweaks to characters have given them a new sense of personality and life that wasn't there before. She is a boon for the series and I look forward to seeing what new life she breathes into the world.

Holly Letson says

Loved the parts with the dragon. The rest of this chapter was just blaaaaah.
