WOW

Good stories!!! I really enjoyed these stories. I enjoyed the entire k9 series. I wish there were more in this series.

Nikkie Richter says

Absolutely loved these two short books. The suspense in wanting to know more and what would happen next. It all kept me wanting to keep on reading! I stayed up way later than normal one night even. Great read!

My review today is on the Love Inspired Suspense, Military K-9 Unit Christmas. This book consists of two novellas that end the Military K-9 Unit Continuity Series. I have really enjoyed this series and these two stories are an excellent ending for the series. These stories are well written, action packed, and full of faith. I know you are going to love this book.

Christmas Escape

Valerie Hansen

Veterinary Assistant Rachel Fielding loves her job working with the military K-9 dogs. She works at Canyon Air Force Base in Texas. These dogs fill her void of no husband and kids of her own. Stryker, a three legged dog is her favorite. Rachel gets a phone call telling her that her estranged sister has been injured and she needs to go to the hospital immediately. Had her abusive boyfriend hurt her? Her boss, Kyle arranges for leave and then takes her to see her sister. She's scared when they get to the hospital, is Peter there? When he shows she knows she must run. She has to protect her niece.

Veterinarian Captain Kyle Roake knows what it feels like to not be able to say goodbye to a loved one. He was too late to kiss his wife and daughter goodbye and he still isn't over that. He not going to let that happen to Rachel. They soon find out that the man who beat her sister and left her for dead is here at the hospital and he is mad. He must protect Rachel and the child.

Yuletide Target

Laura Scott

Senior Airman Jacey Burke is walking across the base on her way home when someone pushes her out into the street into the path of an on coming truck. She is rescued by a man she hasn't seen for ten years.

She tells him she was pushed but he doesn't seem to believe her either. Ever since she came to this base strange things have happened to her but no one will believe her. That's what her stalker wants them to believe. The stalker is escalating. The cops refuse to believe her and it doesn't help that she had filed charges against her boss back in the middle east when he had made advances to her and refused her promotion.

Staff Sergeant Sean Morris is with the Special Forces. She told him her story. He hasn't heard any of the gossip she has heard and he is determined to keep her and her K-9 safe for Christmas. He couldn't believe her allegations were deemed not credible against her boss. He doesn't want to believe that the man is trying to shut her up permanently. Could he be the killer? Who else would want her dead?

These two stories are about broken souls, loss and abuse. God has a plan for these men and women. A plan for a hope and a future. God has a plan for you too. I know the holidays can be really rough for those of us who live alone but God is there to make your world a better place. Give Him your heart, He's a gentleman and won't come in unless invited. He can and will turn your life around.

Exceptional Stories

I really enjoyed the Military K-9 Series and read all the stories. I have them all on my Kindle for easy access so I can read them again....

Caro Carney says

What a great feel good book. Two stories that have suspense, love and faith. This book has you feeling so glad you read it. It's so good to have suspense to keep your heart going but in the end all the Faith and love with a good feeling is great. I also love the K-9 dogs they are so sweet and they make you want to have one. Any way loved this book Thanks Valerie and Laura you both write great books

Title: Military K-9 Unit Christmas
Author: Valerie Hanson & Laura Scott
Pages: 224
Year: 2018

Publisher: Love Inspired Suspense

My rating: 5 out of 5 stars.

Here is the conclusion of the K-9 series that has had some excellent stories written by various authors such as Tracking Danger by Terri Reed, Bound by Duty by Valerie Hanson, Explosive Force by Lynette Eason, and many others. If your interested in reading the whole series, go to httpsharlequinblog.com/2018/02/meet-t... to find the complete series list.

In the final book, there are two stories one written by each author beginning with Christmas Escape by Valerie Hanson, followed by Yuletide Target by Laura Scott. The stories are not tied together, and they are quite enjoyable as well as short and quick reading. The tension and suspense start right with the first page of each tale and don't let up until the conclusion!

I love that the military is highlighted as well as the special training and ability of each dog. I enjoyed the romance part as well as the faith theme that runs throughout the tale. Each author strove to make their characters lifelike and the thriller palpable. Each one was done successfully in my opinion! With the holidays coming up and if you have readers in your family or circle of friends, these books aren't expensive. They are fun to give and read! Enjoy!

Elaine Applebury says

Two good reads by two authors all in one book! I thought it was interesting that Ms. Scott's book had characters that went to high school in Branson, Missouri! (However, Branson students are "the Pirates," not "the Bulldogs.")

This ends this continuity series, but I hope there is another coming soon!

Sandra Webb says

Both stories are really, really good. Loved this whole series!
