EXCERPT

"The Book of Mormon is a volume of holy scripture comparable to the Bible. It is a record of God's dealings with the ancient inhabitants of the Americas and contains, as does the Bible, the fulness of the everlasting gospel.

The book was written by many ancient prophets by the spirit of prophecy and revelation. Their words, written on gold plates, were quoted and abridged by a prophet-historian named Mormon. The record gives an account of two great civilizations. One came from Jerusalem in 600 B.C., and afterward separated into two nations, known as the Nephites and the Lamanites. The other came much earlier when the Lord confounded the tongues at the Tower of Babel. This group is known as the Jaredites. After thousands of years, all were destroyed except the Lamanites, and they are the principal ancestors of the American Indians.

The crowning event recorded in the Book of Mormon is the personal ministry of the Lord Jesus Christ among the Nephites soon after his resurrection. It puts forth the doctrines of the gospel, outlines the plan of salvation, and tells men what they must do to gain peace in this life and eternal salvation in the life to come.

After Mormon completed his writings, he delivered the account to his son Moroni, who added a few words of his own and hid up the plates in the hill Cumorah. On September 21, 1823, the same Moroni, then a glorified, resurrected being, appeared to the Prophet Joseph Smith and instructed him relative to the ancient record and its destined translation into the English language.

In due course the plates were delivered to Joseph Smith, who translated them by the gift and power of God. The record is now published in many languages as a new and additional witness that Jesus Christ is the Son of the living God"

non-fiction

If I could have but one book it would be the scriptures; they give me guidance, comfort and strength. This version includes not only The Bible, but other scriptures that are important to the LDS faith: The Book of Mormon, Doctrine and Covenants and The Pearl of Great Price. Couldn't live without them!

Katherine says

There is nothing like the scriptures from the complete L.D.S. Standard Works to help guide and comfort you, and help you feel the love of Heavenly Father and the Savior and more influence of their love through the Holy Spirit to comfort and assure, to answer questions, to warn, correct, encourage, heal from wounds, sorrows and sins, feel the healing balm of Gilead, and tell about human examples that teach how to live or how not to live. The scriptures lift, refresh, change you from the inside out, and as you follow God, they can sanctify and edify you on a daily basis....be sure to pray too (morning, evening and mid-day if necessary, for yourself and others, and always in your heart) to get those blessings!! READ THEM....ALL OF THEM!!! READ AND PRAY...EVERY DAY!!! The adversary will try and stop you, but do not listen to him at all as he sends his discouraging feelings and messages!!! Pray to overcome him because he does not want anything good for you and wants you to be very miserable. I want to add that now I am part way through the "Old Testament", as we are studying that this year in Sunday School, and I am almost all of the way through the "Book of Mormon" for the umpteenth (Is that a word?) time. I cannot count the times because I lost track long ago. One reason that I read the "Book of Mormon" so much is because it contains the whole gospel of Jesus Christ in it, including all of the precious truths that were lost in various translations of the "Bible". I dearly love the "Bible", though, because it has the lives and teachings of the Lord through the early prophets to the house of Israel and others, and it has the Savior's life and teachings in it....I cannot wait to study the "New Testament" next year!!! Christ also appeared as a resurrected being to the Nephites in the Book of Mormon and preached to them and performed miracles and blessed them and their children, as well as he showed them the wounds in his hands and side, and let them feel for themselves so that they knew that he was the Son of God who had atoned for them, and for all of mankind. The Restored Gospel of Jesus Christ is all based on the Lord's atonement for everyone who ever lived on the earth. The atonement takes care of all of our human frailties that we have because of the fall of Adam and Eve (which God knew was necessary to take place for us to grow and be more like him, so we can dwell in his presence one day), including our own mortal sins as we repent, and gives us victory over the grave both spiritually and physically, as we will be resurrected like him one day!!! See lds.org for a complete online version of our scriptures, or go to our online store, or one in your own area....or better yet, contact the missionaries and watch our online videos on different topics, and then read the scriptures. The missionaries will have you read the scriptures and they will help you to understand them better, as sometimes we need help, even though the LDS version of them has many resources to cross-reference, we still need the help of those who know more.

God's Word . . . always precious, never inappropriate. I'm so grateful for the chance I get to learn of Him every day!

David Brasher says

So much wrong here. I don't know where to start. I guess I will just do the books in order and limit my comments to some of the major things.

The Bible: Animal sacrifice, genocide, rape, mutilation, slavery, polygamy. God's plan is goofy. All humans sin. The penalty for sin is a very bad afterlife. Jesus commits suicide by cop, but this is not a problem because he can just come back to life at will, and he does this after three days. So because God is so vindictive and childish that He can't just forgive people for committing their own sins, a human sacrifice is required, Jesus dies, and humans are required to accept Jesus or suffer a miserable afterlife. Too many moving parts! Could you dream up a more convoluted cosmology if you tried?

The Book of Mormon: Interesting that the three witnesses and the eight witnesses all left the church or were excommunicated. Most convenient that the angel took the plates back to heaven where no one could see them. Can you imagine how many converts there would be if people could see the gold plates in a museum today? Church artwork generally depicts Joseph Smith translating the gold plates by intently studying the characters engraved on them. But actually he translated them by putting his seer stone in a hat and covering the opening of the hat with his face to block out excess light. Scrying like a Gypsy fortune teller is just weird. This sounds a bit like the evil dark magic Mormons preach against. Lamanite DNA. Science has shown that none of the Native Americans are Jews or others from the Middle East. The mitochondrial DNA shows that they are Siberians who came across the Bering Strait. How about those anachronisms? Elephants, horses, wheeled chariots, wheat, barley, silk, glass, steel and iron, steel swords, glass, coinage. How about the Book of Mormon promise where if you read the book and pray about it, you will know it is true? Sorry folks. It doesn't work for everyone. "Feeling the spirit" is just a normal human emotional response. People of all religions or none regularly feel sensations just like this. This is why non-Mormons will swear upon all that is holy that they know their competing religions are true. People often "feel the spirit" at the wrong times. Like when listening to secular music, watching a play, watching a movie, looking at pretty scenery, or spending time with good friends and loved ones.

Doctrine and Covenants: Mostly boring notes from business meetings. Stuff that never should have been canonized. But then there are some sections that are real humdingers with weird doctrines like polygamy. This book provides some interesting background on how Joseph Smith dealt with Emma, his unhappy first wife as he went about taking 33 other wives including two 14-year-olds, several women already married to other men, and several mother-daughter pairs. Polygamy is just icky. And it is still part of LDS doctrine. If a man's wife dies and he remarries, Mormons currently believe that this man will be a polygamist in heaven with two wives.

The Pearl of Great Price: Oh my goodness! The worst of the lot. A smoking gun if ever there was one. When Joseph Smith translated the scroll, scholars had not yet learned to translate Egyptian. But then the Rosetta Stone was found and scholars figured out how to translate the language. Mormon and non-Mormon scholars agree that The Breathing Permit of Hor is totally different than the Book of Abraham. The Egyptian funerary document says nothing about Abraham, and Joseph Smith translated 100% of the characters wrong. That is pretty bad. You would have thought that even just guessing, he might have got one of them right. And for all those deniers who say that we don't have the same scrolls Joseph Smith did, look at the facsimiles. Those were never lost. They were published in The Pearl of Great Price. Oh what a mess! You owe it to yourself to research this matter a bit.

If God gave you a good brain, then don't you think He would expect you to use it? Brains are for thinking. Asking questions. Doubting. Criticizing. Learning. Drawing conclusions. Figuring out what is good and right. If people exercise blind faith rather than using their brains, then they are not fulfilling the measure of their creation, and God would be disappointed with them.
