Marshall Kara Hart

I promised her I'd never let her go. That's why I brought these handcuffs.

I love a good chase. I'm practically untouchable, but they're always staring my way. Women are obsessed with men like me. That's a given. With a body like mine, it's a bit like cheating. It's too damn easy.

From the beginning, I've followed my own code. Rule one: Never fall in love with a good f*ck. They'll only let you down. Trust me. I've had my fair share of hardships. Rule two: Always go back for seconds. Easy as pie.

"On your knees with your hands behind your back."

There wasn't any warning about a girl like her. My Virginia. She's the most beautiful woman in this dive bar. Her smile pushes me over the edge. Her body sends shivers down my spine. I have to pull out every trick in the book to get a chance to talk to her.

I'm going to make her tremble and quake.

There's one major problem. She has something to do with those robberies. But I can't stop thinking about the way that woman f*cks. She's been playing me for a fool.

One night in that interrogation room and I'll have her begging for forgiveness. She should have known. Never fall in love with a man in uniform.

Quite a lot going on in this new story by Kara, Bank robberies and cops looking for those responsible. They nearly get away with it until they do another, even then one could escape. Twists and turns, suspense in this fast paced read. The romance is a bit off and on at times but that is due to him being a cop and her trying to keep from giving herself away and getting arrested. I felt this was a good read and did enjoy it a lot, the ending was a little unexpected though I did think something along those lines would happen. Interesting concept as well figuring out how this would work out.

Marshall tells the stories of Marshall and Virginia and it gives two points of view. Marshall is a police officer and a pretty good one at that. But he has a stubborn side and that is in full effect when he clashes with Virginia.. When he's called to attend to a bank robbery he can't imagine what he's about to get into... Virginia is a burglar who is responsible for a bank robbery that that Marshall is looking into/investigating. Reason for robbing the bank? Money to get the heck out of dodge and away from certain people. She ends up meeting Marshall at a bar and they hit it off when she realizes he is a cop and is investigating the bank robbery. They are both very attracted to each other but Marshall doesn't know about her double life. There is so much suspense and action...there are twists and turns that take place in this romantic suspense story. Oh and the sex is hot hot hot!! You cant help but getting involved in their story and feel for them both, even Virginia who is the criminal. Marshall is the law and order type man and he is so cocky yet there is a sensitive soul hidden there which makes me want to hug him when he finds the truth out. The ending is beautiful and emotional. I loved it and cannot wait to read whats next by this author. It did leave me, though with a HFN type ending feeling.

My Rating: 4.5 stars *****

Marshall, by Kara Hart, is a bad boy romance with a twist. I loved the characters of Vi and Marshall, they played well off of one another. The story sequences flowed well and kept you waiting for that cliff that you knew they would have to crest and fall over at some point. Beautifully written. I love the different angle this story took in regards to a typical bad boy story.

Marshall: A bad boy romance is about Marshall. Marshall is a delicious policeman who certainly do not have problems to score ladies. He is working on a big case about a bank robbery when he at a bar meets the beautiful woman Virginia. They are both very attracted to each other and Marshall have feelings for Virginia that he has not had for other women. But Virginia is not the innocent girl she pretends to be. It's a really good book with an exciting action. It was read almost without breaks. I felt with Marshall and felt sorry for Virginia. It was hard to be calm with the exciting ending. It's a really good book that I like to recommend. I voluntarily reviewed an advanced reader copy of this book

This book is a bad boy romance about Marshall who is a very sexy and arrogant policeman who loves to sleep with the ladies. He is working on a case of bank robberies and they are trying to figure out when and where the next one will happen. While working on this case he meets a woman named Virginia in a bar. She is beautiful and they have a lot of chemistry and the attraction is undeniable. Virginia just so happens to be one of the robbers that Marshall is looking for but he doesn't know it yet. What happens when things hit the fan? Will their love stand the test of time and trouble? Will they run or stay? Well to get these answers you are going to have to read the book. It's a very fast read and you may find it a bit slow in the beginning but does get very good and is worth your time. I voluntarily read this book through their ARC program.

I was very curious about this cop title with a bad body. It's an entertaining read with a 40-year-old town cop who's struggling to solve a bank robbery while becoming obsessed with a woman.

The chapters flow really fast between different POVs from the cop and the mastermind behind the robbery. I didn't truly understand why she's risking everything by being so close to a cop, yet it feels as a risky, over-the-edge relationship fueled by danger and lust.

A kind of Bonny and Clyde angle on top of a forbidden romance. It's written with a reivindicative style, and maybe a bit crazy with no care for protection in the bed department, yet I enjoyed the sensations the story evoked when Virginia falls in love and the freedom she feels for the first time, how cornered she feels by her choices in life, or the happiness Marshall finds for the first time, too.

Nice and hot read for an afternoon in.

She is on the run, this is the last one, she isn't being greedy she needs to get away from this place, go far away and live finally. But that was before she ends up at a bar sulking a bit because the two guys she is in with for these jobs just told her that they need to do another one. UGH! The last one was too close for comfort. In walks a very handsome man, and Virginia just knows this is going to be the end of her. She tries to get away without him noticing, but he did notice her and now it is on.

He is having the longest day ever. He is woken up by his partner and he is next to someone he can't remember and he can't remember what happened. Marshall now done with this day, and decides to do the one thing that helps him, drink. He spots this gorgeous one trying to leave, so he calls her out. Little did he know that she was going to be the best and the worst thing that has happened to him.

He is a cop, she is a bank robber. There is no stopping the spark between them. She does not want anything to do with Marshall. He is all about getting with Virginia. She runs hot and cold, but Virginia decides to take advantage of their time together. She starts spending time with him, and they hook up. She leaves before he wakes up. Just like her is all Marshall thinks. She seems to call the shots, but he craves her like his next breath. Virginia is enjoying still having some control, even though she really is running scared all the time around him. There are a few twists that keep these two and all people involved on the go, in the most exciting and interesting ways.

Then one of the two men get caught, and will only speak with Marshall. He talks and gives the name of the other guy but will NOT give Virginia up. Seeds get planted in Marshall's head by his partner. They go and get the other guy, based off of an anonymous letter sent to Marshall at work. He has no idea it was Virginia who sent it. Now there is more twists that come about. No one could see that Marshall says those 3 words to Virginia in the heat of the moment, funny thing is he totally means them. She says them back, and truthfully means them as well.

Virginia can't live this lie anymore. She feels that if they are going to be serious about and with each other, no secrets, no lies. So she tells him, of course this goes over like a lead balloon. He walks away from her angry and extremely hurt. She is leaving by the docks when jerko partner shows up. Well it just so happens that Marshall catches on to this and goes down to the docks too. Marshall sees the hurtful way his partner is treating HIS Vi (as he commonly calls her) and he will not allow it anymore. Marshall shouts to his partner, and Virginia looks at him. He is pissed and not going to let her be hurt, then there is an interesting development between the two guys, and spoiler alert....Marshall and Virginia leave together.

Their life changes, he is no longer a police officer, she is no longer a bank robber on the run. They are both running and restarting but together. Things for them have started coming together. They get a very enjoyable happy ending. So good!!!

Marshall is a cop and the guy who never wants for female company. He's the love them and leave them type.

Virginia is a criminal, she's heard of him and his reputation for always getting the bad guys and his prowess with women. She decides to play him at his own game, but things don't always go to plan.

Took a while to get into the story but I enjoyed it in the end and it does have an HEA

Sweet lord with a cover like this there was only one thing on my mind... I was going to read a steamy and hot as hell book and I wasn't wrong.

As all of you know Kara Hart has a simple, detailed and super hot writing. The way she describes every scene makes us feel like we are in the story, between the characters.

If you don't know what I mean I strongly advise you to read every book from her and then you will understand.

And the way this book started oh sweet lord...

Marshall tells the stories of Marshall and Virginia and I love when a book has two points of views.

Marshall is a police officer and a very good one. He's cocky and super stubborn. When he's called to attend to a bank robbery he can't imagine what he's about to get into...

Virginia is a burglar responsible for the bank robbery that Marshall is investigating. She wants the money to get away from everyone and everything. To start fresh in a new place. But going from wishing to get it real it's a raw path.

Well I only can say that this book is something else... The way the story unfolds almost got me insane. It's the truth. I was so scared while reading some chapters that I thought that everything was going down the drain.

The suspense is so high that it gave me goosebumps. I was super super nervous. And the hot scenes!!!! Hell yeah they were something else...

The bottom line is that I really loved it, I lived everything from the prologue to the Epilogue.

And what do I read now Kara Hart? What story do you have hidden under your sleeve?

I voluntarily read and reviewed an advanced copy of this book

Marshall is a cop, not exactly a good cop but he does uphold the law. He is a womanizer and he is proud of it. Marshall is a bit older then most hero's in books but that is okay, While investigating a string of bank robberies he gets a bit sidetracked by the gorgeous woman he meets in a bar one night, Virginia, The thing between them is instantaneous, Yet Virginia knows who Marshall is she still cant help herself. He is dark and dominating and she loves it. Virginia just needs money to get away from the town she is in and certain people as well. I LOVED how this book played out.

Amy says

Marshall is the sheriff but, he doesn't always follow the rules. Virginia is a bank robber. They meet and begin to fall for each other. Virginia is keeping a secret and when Marshall finds out, they part ways. The story does end with a twist. HEA, no cliff hanger.
