Parallel Fire Deidre Knight

In their fight for survival, the layers come off--body and soul.

A Midnight Warriors story.

Anna Draekus is a soldier wrapped up in secrets, one of which has just been blown. As a member of the shadowy Madjin Circle, she was marked and trained from childhood to protect the king, even without his knowing. And now that her superior officer Nevin Daniels has discovered her allegiance to the Madjin, another secret is in serious danger of exposure.

The one where she fantasizes about cracking the taciturn Refarian's composure and making him scream her name in passion.

Nevin has tried everything to exorcise Anna from his mind and body, once and for all. Nothing works. He's long lusted after the free-spirited and plainspoken soldier, but her mere presence ties him in knots and drives him to the brink of insanity. Something a man in his position can't afford. Something a man of his maturity could never hope for.

Then a routine patrol finds them wrecked and marooned deep in the Wyoming backcountry. And Anna unwraps Nevin's deepest secret of all: Beneath his tightly controlled exterior beats the wild heart of a tiger.

Great fill in to the parallel series

I highly recommend this terrific short fill-in to Knight's Parallel series. I am not the proud owner of a magical Kindle, but I read this when it was offered as an Amazon short. If you are a fan of the series you'll recognized Anna and Nevin and I loved them both here. Nevin was especially appealing as the capable warrior leader who is so very attracted to Anna that he's unable to talk to her, until one day he manages to flirt a bit. But he doesn't plan on pursuing her because he's in his maturity (which means he's past breeding age) and she's a sweet young thing. These two finally connect when they are on a mission and their craft is disabled. Their coming together is very steamy and holds some surprises for the two of them.

This story falls between the Parallel Seduction (Midnight Warriors, Book 3) and Parallel Desire (Midnight Warriors, Book 4). If you haven't read any of the other books it would work as a stand-alone read.

Barbara ★ says

This is listed as book 5 in the series but it's only 59 pages so that has to be wrong. Oh well, it was really good but way too short.

I loved the story between Anna and Nevin. It was a quick read, but filled with intense emotions and a great love story. I would highly recommend Parallel Fire!!

Carrie says

3.5* Fun novella. Definitely romance without much action or sci-fi elements, even though it's set in the same world as the rest of the Midnight Warrior books. Tells the love story of two side characters. Worth reading for anyone, like me, who enjoys the series.

Short story about Anna and Nevin. They are both portrayed as other being from another world. Nevin is Anna's superior officer and a lot older than her. He is very attracted to her but has never made a move because of their situation. They are shipwrecked and marooned together for a few days and have to come to terms with what their relationship means.
