True Blue Cat Johnson

The red hot and true blue men of Task Force Zeta return!

Bull-

SpecOp "Bull" Ford earned his nickname through sheer size alone but all it takes to crumble his stone wall exterior is one petite harpist. All he has to do to be with her is prevent a terrorist bombing and save a room of hostages.

Matt-

Tired of watching his teammates get the girl while all he's had his hands on lately is a computer keyboard, computer genius Matt Coleman is happy to take an assignment in Dubai. But the job isn't as simple as predicted when Matt's online SpecOps computer buddy "Sam" is there working undercover, and he turns out to be a she.

The Commander-

To his team he's just "the commander". For Hank Miller the military is his life and that's enough, until he travels to Pigeon Hollow and meets Lois Gordon, aka "Momma", the mother of two of his men.

Auntee says

This was another easy read, a follow-up to Trilogy No. 103: Red Hot & Blue, which focuses on the men from Special Task Force Zeta, a secret elite anti-terrorist task force.

The first story in this trilogy tells the story of the Commander of the unit, 46 year old Hank Miller, (one sexy hot older man), who finds himself attracted to the mother of two of the men he commands. I liked this story about two lonely older people (not that 46 is old!) who have a great deal of passion and romance--they were hot together!

The second story is about 'Bull' Jones, nicknamed 'Bull' because of his tremendous size. After being cheated on, he never expects to find love again (and the next day!) with a petite harpist who he meets under unusual circumstances.

The third story is about technical genius and communications specialist Matt Coleman. Matt's watched all the members of his unit find romance (even his Commander!) and wonders when, or if, it will ever be his turn. Imagine his surprise when he finds the love of his life and she's been right under his nose for quite awhile!

These were all good stories, quite sexy at times, and with good characterizations. My only complaint is I wish they could have been longer--I just wanted more! But that is the nature of trilogies, anthologies, etc. The stories move fast but sometimes you just crave a little bit more...

Five Amazing Stars

Release and Resue

I was absolutely thrilled to read book seven from the amazing series, Red Hot and Blue. I just couldn't wait to get back these these exciting incredible men, soldiers from the Special Task Force Zeta. Such a wonderful adventure for them all fighting and protecting others with their task force. I simply couldn't put this book down once!!

As Bull Ford listened to another order from Jimmy Gordon. Working together was their key to release Bill to move on faster while scoping the area. Bull's aim was then to tell others from his group over the further distances. Bull worked himself hard. While he hides himself. His aim was to release the the bomb and rescue hostage safely.

Bull unfortunately worked this out without any help. Not one of their team was there to help him out. Bull was a smart man, he knew exactly what he was doing. One his own Yet there was still the big crash of the blowing up of the bomb. Until suddenly they could return to camp and finally rest up too.

I simply enjoyed this most wonderful masterpiece. Such a magnificent most exciting tale of all. I completely adored these fabulous characters too. Such a brilliant romantic and unbelievable book too! Congratulations Cat Johnson!!!

* I recommend this book to everyone!!
