No more waiting. War is upon them. The dimensions are colliding, ripping apart, and Earth is in chaos. The dead fight the living, humans fight immortals, and angels take up arms against Gods. The streets are stained with spilled blood, and now Gabriella must lead an army of angels to the battle that will end it all.

She's experienced the dark and the light. She's known truth, family, and love. And now she must make a choice that could tear it all apart forever. There's not much time. The clock is ticking. . . .

It all started a year ago in a lab. Is the battlefield where it ends? Find out in the explosive conclusion to the Timeless Series.
