“Zombie Field Day” is the second volume in the “Zombie Zappers” series.

Leo has a half-zombie residing in his bedroom closet. His zombie experiments seem to be progressing, until students at his Rotfield Middle School become zombies. Leo and his friend Chad race to figure out what’s causing an outbreak of the undead, and what the antidote might be. Their efforts are hindered by the principal, who seems to be an instigator in creating zombies, along with his large model unicorn collection.

Geared to elementary school students, the short chapters and fast-paced zombie action are sure to appeal to readers looking for a quick, but entertaining, story.

I received a free copy of this book through Goodreads First Read's Giveaway. Being this is a children's book I gave it to my ten year old son who absolutely loved the book! Plan to look into the rest of the series hoping he will enjoy them too.

Teresa Bateman says

This is book #2 in the "Zombie Zapper" series. Leo's life has gotten interesting with a half-zombie living in his bedroom closet. His zombie experiments are rolling along and all is well...or is it? When the students at his middle school start to be zombified he and his friend, Chad, have to figure out what's causing it and what the antidote might be. It doesn't help that the principal appears to be playing a starring role in this disaster, along with his large and varied unicorn collection. This is a short, easy-to-read chapter book that seems aimed at 3rd and 4th graders, but would meet the needs of high interest, low vocabulary older students. It's fun, silly, and zombie-filled. What more could you ask for?

Shannon says

Very cute book. Good for younger readers.

Michelle says

A cute book about a young zombie scientist hunter who needs to stop the evil Principal from turning the whole school population into zombies. He and his best friend have to work together fast or else his stepsister will remain a zombie.

Tammy says

my 14 yr old enjoyed this book and wants more
